CONFERENCE CHAIR

Dr. Norida Mazlan

Dr. Norida Mazlan, an Associate Professor at the Faculty of Agriculture, University Putra Malaysia, specializes in pest management, pesticide risk assessment, and decision support for pest management. Previously, she worked as a Technical Executive at an agrochemical company and as a Research Officer at the Malaysia Cocoa Board. Her research focuses on pest management in vegetables and paddy, addressing pesticide resistance, environmental contamination, and farmers' safety. Currently, she emphasizes agroecological approaches, pest modeling, and precision agriculture to enhance sustainable crop protection and food security. She has also advised on food safety in ASEAN and studied pesticide stewardship in Vietnam and Malaysia.
